Speaker's Biography

Hosted by RACS Queensland

Saturday 28 May 2022

Dr Dike Drummond

Dike Drummond, MD and Founder of TheHappyMD.com, runs a Physician Burnout Prevention Program for physicians and their organizations through a scalable online program. His expertise on the subject of physician burnout is integral in creating a tool that helps physicians and their organizations properly address the issue of burnout and make improvements to patient engagement and care, as well as develop healthier, higher performing physicians and organizations.

Dr Chris Conyard

Chris is an orthopaedic registrar, soon to be consultant. He has a wife and two young children. Chris was the president of the Australian Orthopaedic Registrars Association. He has published papers on trainee burnout and wellbeing. Along with his surgical career, Chris has three world records relating to physical agility. Chris started the Million Meters for Melanoma charity in the name of his sister-in-law, who passed away at age 34 from the disease.

Peter Hodgson

Peter Hodgson is a Partner and Financial Advisor at Walshs. Peter has specialised in the financial planning needs of medical professionals in both public and private practice since 2013. His specialist advice ranges from asset structuring and progression to individualised financial advice on property, risk, superannuation and investments.
