Eligibility summary RACS early career Fellows (Fellowship within past ten years)

Number offered 1

Interest area Surgical science, ACS Annual Clinical Congress

The Hugh Johnston Australia and New Zealand (ANZ) Chapter of the American College of Surgeons (ACS) Travel Fellowship encourages the international exchange of information concerning surgical science, practice and education.

The Fellowship, as part of a bi-lateral exchange with the ACS, enables the recipient to attend the ACS Annual Clinical Congress and establish academic and professional collaborations and friendships.

Conditions

Duration and timing

Minimum three weeks to coincide with the ACS Annual Clinical Congress held every October.

Applicant eligibility

Applications are open to RACS Fellows:

- who have gained their Fellowship within the past ten years

It is expected applicants have a major interest and accomplishment in basic or clinical sciences related to surgery.

Eligible activity

The recipient must spend a minimum of three weeks in the USA. While there, they are required to:

- attend and participate in the ACS Annual Clinical Congress
- participate in the congress' formal convocation ceremony
- visit at least two medical centres in North America before or after the congress to lecture and share clinical and scientific expertise with local surgeons.

The academic and geographic aspects of the travel itinerary are to be finalised in consultation and agreement with the recipient and the president of the ANZ Chapter of the ACS prior to the commencement of travel. Any changes to the travel program require approval by the president and RACS.

Applicants must not have commenced their travels prior to the closing date for applications.

Application criteria

The application is to include:

- the potential benefits from the travel to the individual, the ANZ Chapter of the ACS and to RACS.
